Pocket Jail, Tiny Infraction

Rosalita the chihuahua is slapped in the jail-like pocket of pound-keeper Paul Bandick of New Westminster after appearing in public without her 1959 licence. She tried an innocent expression but didn't get off.

Germany Incidents Isolated

New Anti-Semitism Leaves Jews Calm

DUESSELDORF, Germany (AP)—The spectre of anti-semitism is haunting Germany again, but a Jewish leader says Jews are not worried.

"There is a strong potential for anti-semitism in Germany but I don't believe it has grown stronger in recent years," says Hendrik van Dam, director of the German Jewish Council.

These are some incidents of the last year:

TYPICAL REMARKS

A high school teacher declared "not enough Jews were gassed" during the Hitler era. A German consular official in New York was accused of calling a journalist "a dirty Jew."

A hospital attendant said he would volunteer to administer death injections "if there were extermination camps for Jews in West Germany today." A business man announced in a beer hall conversation that the Nazis "forgot to gas many a Jew."

JAILED OR FIRED

All four of these persons were either jailed or dismissed from their posts.

Jewish gravestones have been overturned and graves desecrated in half a dozen cities. A giant Nazi swastika was painted on the handsome new synagogue in Duesseldorf.

OFFICIAL DISMAY

The Adenauer government is officially dismayed at these outbursts. Van Dam takes this view:

"These are all isolated incidents. Anti-semitism is a fact of life throughout the world. And we know that the German government is doing what it can to stamp it out."

Officer Praises 'Heroic Deed'

City Woman's Husband Saves German Couple

A Victoria woman has received word that her son-in-law, serving in Germany with the Second Battalion, Queen's Own Rifles of Canada, saved the lives of a German couple whose car rolled into the icy Honne River during a blinding snowstorm.

Mrs. Martha Ball, of 2389 Dalhousie, learned of the heroic deed from an army newspaper clipping sent by her daughter, the former Miss Violet Fell, who is living in Mellen, Germany, with her husband, Rfn. "Randy" Turpin.

The clipping contains a letter written by the German civilian to Rfn. Turpin's commanding officer, praising the soldier who, "notwithstanding the height of the slope and the considerable high-water, immediately jumped into the Honne in order to render me assistance," after the car rolled into the stream and overturned.

The German thanked the officer for the assistance, "worth imitation which rebounds to your regiment's honor."

The clipping then observed that, as guests in a foreign country customs are different and the manner in which we act sets a guide for the citizens of this country to judge the Canadian Army and Canada.

"Let us follow this example and show those about us what Canadians are really like," it concluded.

Rfn. Leo John Thomas Peter "Randy" Turpin, of Havelock, Ont., served in Korea with the Queen's Own Rifles and was later stationed at Gordon Head until his unit went overseas in September, 1957, for duty in Germany.

End Death Penalty

Party Lines Crossed On Issue

OTTAWA (CP) — A CCF and a Progressive Conservative member of Parliament are trying to take the capital punisment issue out of the political arena.

Liberals may be asked to join next year, making it an all-party affair.

The co-operation involves a bill to abolish the death sentence, introduced last year by Harold Winch (CCF, Vancouver East) but was "talked out."

Now, Frank McGee (PC, York-Scarborough) is sponsoring the bill.

He approached Mr. Winch last fall to ask about the bill. Mr. Winch said he would be glad to hand it over so that the issue could become associated with a member of another party.

Mr. McGee says that if his bill gets nowhere this time, he may ask a Liberal to take over next. His bill would substitute life imprisonment for the death sentence except in cases of treason.

Car registrations in Sweden for the first 10 months of 1958 were 2.5 per cent below the same period of 1957.

25,000 Girls Asia-Bound

BERLIN (AP) — About 25,000 girls are going to be shipped to new farming areas in the Soviet Asian republic of Kazakhistan, to make the boys there mind their manners among other things.

The East German news agency ADN reports the impending feminine migration.

Soviet papers recently printed complaints that young male settlers in the frontier territory were getting sloppy in their dress and manners because there were no young women around.

Kazakhistan extends from the lower reaches of the Volga River in European Russia to the western border of Red China.

The girls, said ADN, have volunteered "to help the quick development of this rich territory."

Let's talk REAL ESTATE

By Jack Mears

When Don and I started our office in Oak Bay we had very definite ideas in our minds. The main one being that we wished to give a service to a specific community and to be an integrated part of that community. We felt that by operating over the whole city the average Realtor got to know a little about an awful lot of property. We, on the other hand, wanted to know everything about a much smaller district. We wished to become an authority on one area, knowing more about it than any other firm. We wished in particular to become part of a community where we would have the confidence and trust of the members, so that they would automatically come to us as friends for all advice on their Real Estate problems. That we are succeeding in this is being borne out in more ways than one. People are now dropping into our office every day; not necessarily to buy anything, but to ask advice for themselves, their friends and relatives. Nearly every client we have sold to or for has sent us at least one other; and in one case we had six successful introductions from a family whose home we sold. Another family for whom we sold bought two more homes through us to a total of $80,000. Just today we were given a recommendation by a client whose house is not yet sold which will result in a very nice piece of business. All this boils down to one big fact. We like being here and now Oak Bay seems to like having us. If you are thinking of buying or selling and haven't yet been in touch with us why not give us a call.
